WALTON BEATEN IN COURT FIGHT Twelve Mourners At Wake Die In Floods After Cloudburst

APPEAL MADE BY GOVERNOR NOT GRANTED

Last Legal Obstacle To Submission Of Question Is Removed

CHARGES SIGNATURES FALSE

Ardent Political Enemy Of Executive Seeks To Forestall Action

Oklahoma City.—The state supreme court Saturday denied an application of Governor J. C. Walton for a rehearing of his appeal from a decision of the secretary of state that would have prevented a vote Tuesday on an initiative bill to permit the state legislature to convene itself to investigate official conduct of state officials.

The court went into conference Saturday morning to consider an application for a writ of mandamus to compel the state election board to enter the referendum on the ballot.

CHARGES FORGERY

Cambell Russell, an ardent political enemy of Governor Walton, who circulated the initiative petition, instituted the action to keep the measure off the ballot. The governor has applied for a rehearing of his appeal from the secretary of state ruling that the petition is valid, charging that a number of signatures on it are forgeries.

To prevent possible lengthy delay in a supreme court ruling on the governor's application for rehearing, Russell presented his request for mandamus late Friday.

Had the court granted it, not only Governor Walton's action but any other court attempt to keep the proposal off the ballot effectively would have been blocked.

The referendum would have amended the state constitution so as to provide that the lower house might convene by a call signed by a majority of its members. It specified that such an assembly could not pass legislation but could be devoted only to an investigation or state officials.

The way thus would have been clear for an immediate session of the majority members of the house, who gathered here Wednesday to inquire into charges that Governor Walton has misused his official powers.

U. S. WON'T ACT TO HELP RAISE WHEAT PRICES

Government Satisfied It Has Done Everything Possible In Credit Line

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1923, by the Post, Pub. Co.
Washington.—Farm relief so far as government appropriation of funds or any other form of direct or indirect subsidy is concerned is not going to be granted. Gestures of aid and sympathy will be made but at bottom most government officials are convinced that there is little they can do to boost the price of wheat.

The committee of bankers from the wheat growing states comprising the ninth federal reserve district, were in conference Friday with the directors of the war finance corporation. They had their talk with President Coolidge on Thursday. They did not argue for any specific proposal but urged in general that the government do something to improve the position of the wheat growing farmers.

For one thing, the government is satisfied that it has done all that it can do in the way of extending credit. No money has been lent by the war finance corporation to the wheat growing states than has been given in proportion to other parts of the country. New facilities of credit have been opened up by new legislation at the last session of congress. What then remains? The farmers would like the government to handle the crop for export at whatever price it did during the government's 1917-1918 campaign.

CAN'T DICTATE PRICE

But the question asked in Washington is whether the farmers want the government to go into the export business and take a loss. If the world price of wheat is down, the government would be unable to sell its wheat at any higher price than could the farmers themselves. America is no longer in the position of dictating to foreign countries what the price of wheat should be as other parts of the world have come into production.

The United States is at the mercy of the world-wide situation. Canada, for instance, with a crop of 350,000,000 bushels of wheat, is compelled to take the same price for her product as America with her approximate surplus of 75,000,000 to 100,000,000 bushels.

PRICE HAS INCREASED

Officials point out that the price of wheat today is higher than it was a year ago today and that prices are bound to rise still further.

No special session of congress is in the offing because the administration hasn't yet anything to propose that can be cured by legislation. Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture, Secretary Hoover, Eugene Meyer of the War Finance Corporation, and all the men in the government who know anything about the farm situation are stalling hard to find some solution that will help the farmer. The political power of the farm bloc is appreciated. The administration wants to appear sympathetic and helpful as possible. If the farmers want to restrict wheat to the American government they must get rid of the surplus somehow, or else set a protected price.

15 Minute Street Car Schedule Will Start Here Monday

Eight Hurt In Madison Car Crashes

Madison.—Eight persons were injured in automobile accidents here Friday, one of them perhaps fatally. Norton Erickson, laborer sustained a fractured skull and two broken legs when a car he was driving on the Sun Prairie road, carrying eight others, struck a bridge and turned over. Two of the occupants escaped uninjured. Oliver Chatterton, driving a truck was injured when his truck struck a telephone pole east of the city.

BADGER CITIES MAY SELL COAL TO HOLD PRICES

Wisconsin Department Of Markets Tells Of Means To Combat Extortion

Madison.—The Wisconsin department of markets in a statement Saturday declared that cities are empowered by the statutes to go into the business of distributing coal should exorbitant prices be charged by local dealers.

"Subsection 19 of section 66.06 of the Wisconsin statutes provides: 'Any city may by a vote of three-fourths of all the members of the council establish and operate equipment for the purchase, sale and supply of fuel to its citizens, under regulation of the council.'"

"The margin that goes to the retailer approximates 20 per cent of the selling price. It must be borne in mind that this covers more than the hauling part of the business. There is the matter of interest on the investment, maintenance of equipment and reward for risk taking."

KUFAHL HELD ON BOND AS WITNESS

Former Elkhorn Youth Will Stay In Jail Unless $2,000 Is Furnished

Elkhorn, Wis.—Unless bond in the sum of $2,000 is forthcoming, Ernest Kufahl, former Watertown youth, said to be the fiance of Mrs. Myrtle Schaudt, 35 year old Whitewater widow, charged with the attempted poisoning of her second oldest child, will remain in the county jail here as a material witness for the state, according to a statement issued by District Attorney A. L. Godfrey.

1,400 SIGNED AS MEMBERS IN 'Y' CAMPAIGN

Workers Agree To Secure 100 More Members Within The Next 30 Days

Workers in the Y. M. C. A. membership drive went over their modified goal of 1,400 members at their supper at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Friday evening by two members. They were ready to go out again after supper, but this was made unnecessary by their agreeing to sign up as individuals or teams and promising to secure enough members within the next 30 days to put them over the original goal of 1,500.

More than 50 workers attended the supper Friday evening. It was the most enthusiastic gathering of the campaign and E. J. Harwood, general chairman, thanked the men for their cooperation. George L. Goodwin, director, expressed his appreciation also of work done and later in the evening for Eau Claire, where he opens another membership drive next Monday.

George F. Werner, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was highly pleased with the result of the campaign which exceeded the one year ago by 100 members. It was the tenth anniversary campaign and many of the old guard as well as new men participated in it, he said.

The total membership Friday noon was 1,500. This number was increased during the evening to 1,137. Instead of the teams going out after supper they agreed to turn in 170 additional members within 30 days, many of the prospects who had not been seen before.

At the supper Friday evening, R. E. Carnross of the "C" division reported 24 members and 281 miles; J. E. Bond of "D" division reported 20 members and 208 miles; H. H. Cole of "C" division 14 members and 335 miles; E. J. Henderson of "A" division 12 members and 224 miles. H. W. Russell had 333 miles to his credit.

In the grand total mileage Mr. Russell's record with a Nash car showed that he covered the course twice and had had 53 miles to spare. The second high car was a Jordan driven by T. E. Orblison with a mileage of 2,800. Third high car was a Studebaker driven by J. N. Vesper which had 2,324 miles to its credit.

Jap Habor Plagued By Fly Pests

By Associated Press
Tokio.—In addition to the numerous other discomforts which have followed in the wake of the great earthquake, Yokohama has been invaded by a host of flies which are making life there next to unbearable.

There are few habitable buildings left in Yokohama and those victims of the earthquake who are remaining in the city are subjected to the greatest inconveniences. Living in shacks and tents, the sufferers have no way of counteracting the plague of flies and the insect pests are becoming a real danger.

The American relief agencies have established a buffet in Yokohama for those who are forced to visit the city on business, and at the suggestion of the American embassy, the imperial hotel of Tokio, has established a Yokohama annex.

BABY BORN AS FATHER'S DEAD BODY ARRIVES

Remains Of Henry Williams Arrives Home From East Where He Died Of Injuries

The body of Henry Williams, 37, who died early Thursday morning at North Tondawanda, N. Y., where he was injured Sept. 16, arrived at the home, 638 Toluah-st., Friday afternoon. A few hours earlier a daughter was born to his wife, Mrs. Williams' condition is said to be favorable.

Funeral services for Mr. Williams will be held at 9 o'clock Monday morning in St. Joseph church and burial will be in St. Joseph cemetery.

Mr. Williams, employed as a millwright by the Kimberly-Clark Co., went to the company's mill at Niagara Falls on Labor day. On Sunday, Sept. 16, while he was returning from Buffalo where he visited relatives, he fell or was pushed off a street car which he was boarding at North Tondawanda. His left leg was amputated, his back and head lacerated and he suffered internal injuries which caused his death in a hospital Thursday morning.

FLOOD HINDERS RESCUE WORK IN WYOMING WRECK

Only Two Bodies Of Estimated Number Of Victims Recovered From Debris

By Associated Press
Casper, Wyo. — Saturday, thirty hours after Chicago, Burlington and Quincy passenger train No. 30, enroute from Casper to Denver had dropped through a bridge over Cole creek, 15 miles east of this city, only two bodies of the thirty or more victims of the wreck had been recovered. They were those of D. E. Schultz, baggage man, of Denver, and H. M. Schmidt, of Glen Rock, Wyo. Previous reports have listed Nicholas Schmets of Douglas, Wyo., as having been drowned, but Friday night his name was placed along with those known to be missing.

Rain and snow continued to fall the greater part of Friday and rescue parties that went to the scene of the accident were forced to abandon their efforts to remove any of the bodies. Schultz's body was recovered only after it had been washed clear of the wreckage.

Dr. J. P. O'Donnell, divisional medical examiner for the Burlington, expressed the opinion Friday night that because of the swiftness of the current in Cole creek the faces of the dead will be so marred that in many instances identification will be impossible.

Rescue crews that were sent out as soon as word of the wreck reached here late Thursday night were unable to reach the submerged cars. The headlights of the locomotive that had hauled them to the scene cast a titful glow on the wreckage. There was nothing to be seen but the tops of the cars far out in the swollen stream, nothing to be heard but the roar of rushing water. No sound came from the coaches, for death to those imprisoned in them had come swiftly.

MRS. STOKES SAID TO BE PLOT VICTIM

Prosecutor Will Ask Indictment Of Half Dozen Persons In Conspiracy

By Associated Press
Chicago.—Helen Elwood Stokes, wife of a wealthy hotel owner, whom she charged with conspiracy to ruin her name, was declared to have been the victim of "the most malicious plot that has ever come to the attention of Illinois officials" by Prosecutor Charles Wharton, who said he would ask the October grand jury to indict half a dozen persons on conspiracy charges.

Chicago attorneys for Stokes announced an attempt would be made Saturday to have the $50,000 slander suit of Hal Billig against Stokes transferred to federal court and brought to trial here. The suit came after Stokes charged Billig with being overfriendly with Mrs. Stokes.

Twelve Mourners At Wake Die In Floods After Cloudburst

Property Damage Estimated At More Than Half Million Dollars

By Associated Press
Omaha, Neb.—Nineteen known dead three missing, more than a dozen seriously injured and property damage estimated at more than a half million dollars was the toll of a tornado and cloudbursts which visited western Iowa and eastern Nebraska Friday night.

At Council Bluffs where the tornado struck shortly after 2 o'clock Friday night, five persons are known to be dead, three missing and five seriously injured and property damage estimated at more than $250,000.

Twelve mourners were drowned at Louisville, Neb., when the house where the body of Mrs. Mary McCarver lay, was washed into Mill creek, which became a raging torrent, having risen five feet in less than an hour, following the cloudburst.

The dead at Council Bluffs are: Fred Rouppe, 35, a stock buyer of Wellsville, Mo.; Mrs. Lars Keltner, 26, and her three children, Richard, six, George, eight and Herbert, four. "The dead at Louisville are: Robert McCarver, Mr. and Mrs. William McCarver, and Mr. McCarver's step daughters, Pearl and Pauline Bronkow, aged 12 and 10 respectively; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Laird and sons, Herbert S. and William T. Mrs. J. W. Morgan and son, Clarence, 3, all of Louisville, and Mrs. Lou Smith of Morrison, Ill.

Dr. A. A. Ward, a physician of Marquette, Neb., on his way to make a professional call was killed when, blinded by rain and hail, his car skidded and turned over.

WASHED INTO CREEK

Two persons, a railroad employee, and Clarence Dalton, a dairy man, are reported as missing at Council Bluffs, and it is believed that they may have been washed into Indian creek, which is out of its banks because of the heavy rains of the past few days.

Mrs. Keltner and her three children were killed as they ran from their home, which was in the path of the tornado. As they left their front porch, a large tree was uprooted and they were buried beneath it. The bodies of the four, all bunched together, were found by a neighbor about an hour after the tornado had subsided. Those killed at Louisville were seated in the home of Mrs. Mary McCarver, who died Friday, when the creek which had changed its natural course to run down the main street of the town, swept the house into the Platte river.

VOLSTEAD AND RUHR WILL BE FORUM SUBJECTS

Committees Plan Program For Sunday Meetings Of People's Forum

A People's forum program which will include discussion of current topics of absorbing interest was planned at a meeting of committee chairmen in the city hall council chambers Friday afternoon. The forum opens Sunday evening, Nov. 4, and closes Feb. 17. Fourteen programs will be arranged. It was agreed to dispense with programs on Dec. 23 and Dec. 30 because of church activities which will conflict with attendance at the forum meetings. All of the lectures will be held in Lawrence Memorial chapel.

Because these Sunday addresses are the only lectures scheduled for the city this winter and because of the nature of subjects to be discussed it is believed the forum will attract a larger audience this year than last winter. Most of the addresses last winter were of a religious nature.

Dr. H. E. Peabody is chairman of the program committee and has started his work. Dr. Earle Baker was appointed chairman of the music committee to succeed Mrs. H. K. Pratt who said she was unable to act.

FIX BUDGET AT $1,200
The budget for the year was fixed at $1,200, of which $900 is for the program, $200 for music and $100 for advertising. The average expense of each forum meeting will be slightly in excess of $85. Inasmuch as all the meetings are free, the expense must be defrayed by collections. Because of the nature of the programs it is expected the collections will be much larger than last year.

It is the plan to present both sides of each controversial subject with lectures on succeeding Sunday nights by eminent speakers. Among the topics to be discussed are the situation in the Ruhr, the Volstead act, the coal miners' controversy and Socialism. It was tentatively agreed that the forum will open with a discussion of the Ruhr situation.

Dr. Peabody is in touch with the French and German embassies in America to secure the best speakers obtainable to present both sides of the subject. It is proposed to have the French side presented at the Nov. 4 meeting and the German arguments on Nov. 11.

DISCUSS VOLSTEAD
Dr. Minnahan of Green Bay, will speak in favor of the Volstead law. It was announced. The speaker who will take the opposite side has not been selected but a effort will be made to secure David Rose, former mayor of Milwaukee, and prominent in the midwest as an orator, to talk for modification of the law.

Among other prominent men who will be asked to speak here are Clarence Darrow, noted Chicago attorney; President Dickey of Albion college, one of the greatest platform speakers in the country, Arthur Holt of Boston, Dr. Deale of Milwaukee and President Lewis of the coal miners' union. The complete program probably will be ready for announcement near the end of October.

NORDMAN TO SPEAK AT APPLE CREEK
Commissioner Of Markets Will Address Meeting Tuesday Evening

Edward Nordman, state commissioner of markets will deliver an address at a meeting of Appleton Creek farmers in Stammer's hall, Apple Creek, Tuesday evening, Oct. 2. The meeting probably will start at 7:30. Albert Krueger, president of the farmer organization will preside. It is probable there will be a discussion of a proposal to invite farmers from other sections of the county to attend the next Apple Creek meeting.

DRIVER HURT IN THRILLING RUNAWAY
John Anderson, driver of a team wagon for Frank Bartz, contractor, was slightly injured when his team ran away and upset him on the Lawrence street viaduct at 5:30 Thursday evening. The runaway was caused at the foot of the Prospect hill when an automobile truck driven by Carl Schwartzbauer, Appleton, st. Menasha, frightened the team.

Two teams of Frank Bartz were pulling wagons down Prospect hill when the automobile truck, proceeding in the same direction, tried to pass the teams. On seeing another automobile climbing from the opposite direction, the driver swung the truck in behind the rear team, striking the rear wheels of that wagon. The horses lunged forward and thus frightened the team ahead driven by Anderson. The runaway team ran up Pearl street hill turned on Lawrence street and upset the wagon on the bridge. Mr. Anderson suffered a minor injury to his foot.

BEG PARDON
Mrs. Ruden Hess, Neenah, formerly Miss Bertha Bauer, denies she married the doughboy with whom she corresponded during the World war. She was stated in a story in the Post-Crescent on Friday.

First 25 couples admitted Free, Maple View Pavilion, Sunday evening.

1,500 PORKERS ON SALE BLOCK AT STOCK FAIR

More than 1,500 young pigs were offered for sale at the fair grounds Saturday. The grounds were crowded with automobiles, motor-trucks and people practically the entire forenoon and the congestion extended as far south as College ave. Prices ranged all the way from $1.50 to $1.50 according to age. Buyers were present from several southern Wisconsin cities and had no trouble in filling their double decked trucks.

AWARD CONTRACT FOR ENLARGING FILTERING PLANT

Appleton Construction Company's Bid Is Lowest Submitted To Board

At a special meeting of the Appleton water commission held in the city hall Friday, Appleton Construction company was awarded the contract for construction of an addition to the filtration plant, for which the common council had authorized an appropriation at its last meeting. The successful bidder's contract price is $14,143. Other contractors who had submitted proposals for the job were Greinke Brothers, Fred Lillige, George Ashman and C. R. Meyer & Sons company.

The addition which is to be erected at once is a superstructure for the proposed additional filters that will be installed between the filter plant and the pumping station. The addition will be built of red pressed brick with green tile roof, like the other water department buildings. The work also includes concrete foundation for filter beds, carpenter work, and painting.

SHERIFF SELLS TOOLS TO SATISFY JUDGMENT
A number of tools and implements belonging to the Blake Paving and Construction company were sold to several bidders at public auction Friday by Sheriff Otto H. Zuehlke to cover an incurrence of $129.37 due the Fuller Goodman Lumber company on the basis of a municipal court judgment rendered Sept. 7. The sale took place at Smith Livery and Transfer company.

Public sale of $40 acres of land in Grand Chute owned by the Appleton Peet Products company was temporarily postponed. The sale was ordered to satisfy a judgment of $784.33 rendered in municipal court Oct. 25, 1922, in favor of the Wadham Oil company.

LAUER FREED OF MANSLAUGHTER BY SHEBOYGAN JURY

Appleton Meat Market Employee Found Not Guilty Friday Night

Theodore Laurer, employed in the Hopfensperger meat market, was found not guilty of manslaughter by a jury in circuit court in Sheboygan Saturday morning. Laurer was held in connection with the death of a young man who was injured in a collision of his motorcycle with an automobile Laurer was driving.

The trial started on Thursday and the case went to the jury Friday afternoon. A verdict was reached during the night but the jury did not report until Saturday morning.

Laurer had been at Liberty on bail since his arrest and was working here until he went to Sheboygan for the trial.

M'KEE IS SOLIST AT BAND CONCERT

Carl McKee will be vocal soloist at the concert to be played in Lawrence Memorial chapel by the Artillery band next Tuesday evening. The concert is to start at 8 o'clock.

Mr. McKee has been soloist at several concerts and has pleased large audiences.

The program for Tuesday evening is being arranged by the director, Prof. Percy Fullinwider.

ADVERTISING CLUB OUTLINES STRONG PROGRAM FOR YEAR

Improvement In Advertising Is Aim Of Ad Writers Of Appleton

Appleton Advertising club, which was organized about a year ago for the purpose of instructing its members in better advertising, has planned a program for the year which will deal with many educational topics. The club has an educational committee and a vigilance committee both of which function for the betterment of the members of the organization. The meetings are planned for the first and third Thursdays of the month when some speaker outside of the club will be on the program.

The first regular meeting of the new season will be held Oct. 4 when H. L. Post, chairman of the program, will secure a speaker. The topic to be discussed will be "Increasing the Supply of Sales Persons." On Oct. 18 "Newspaper Merchandising Service" will be the subject for the speaker. Ralph Gee will have charge of the meeting.

F. G. Moyle will be chairman on Nov. 1 when the discussion will be on "How to Merchandise Advertising." "The Mailing List" will be the subject for Nov. 15. E. S. Colvin will be in charge of the meeting.

The first Thursday in December will be devoted to a discussion of business matters. G. S. Galpin who has charge of the meeting Dec. 20 will secure a speaker to discuss the "Advertising Budget."

"Advertising and the Churches" will be studied on Jan. 3 at the program to be arranged by L. A. Bughman. The meeting Jan. 17 will be under the direction of F. G. Moyle. "Dealer Cooperation" will be studied.

WANT FARMER TRADE
"Farmers' Good Will" will be the interesting subject for Feb. 7 when John Mullen is program chairman. E. S. Colvin will have charge of the meeting Feb. 21 when "Forms of Direct Advertising" involving the right forms to be used will be discussed. The first meeting in March will be devoted to business matters.

On March 20 the topic, "Tying up National and Local Advertising" will be studied. The general chairman will be F. G. Moyle. H. L. Post will direct the meeting April 3 when "Raising Standards of Efficiency" will be given careful consideration. "Out-door Advertising" will be taken up April 17 under the chairmanship of H. G. Thomas.

E. S. Colvin will arrange the meeting for May 1. A speaker will be secured to talk on "Preparation of Direct Advertising." "Advertising to Your Employees" will occupy the attention of the members on May 15. F. G. Moyle will again be the chairman.

Hugh G. Corbett will have the meeting on June 5 when the important topic of "Community Advertising" will be reviewed. "Cooperative Sales and Demonstrating" will be discussed at the last study meeting of the year under the direction of G. S. Galpin, on June 19.

On July 3 the work for the year will be finished with a final discussion of business matters.

ON THE SCREEN

BRYANT WASHBURN IS IMPULSIVE HERO

Bryant Washburn comes to the New Bijou theatre Sunday in "The Ghost of the Rancho," a Pathe Playlet, re-edited in three swift-acted reels from a former feature success. The story opens in Southern California, in a cabaret, where Washburn, as the only heir of his rich and eccentric old grandfather, is giving an imitation of his idea of the proper way to spend a lot of money.

Bryant Washburn is given the leading support of pretty and vivacious Rhea Mitchell, who is first seen as a cabaret dancer and then as a telegraph operator. Joseph J. Dowling plays the role of the eccentric grandfather. "The Ghost of the Rancho" was written by Jack Cunningham and directed by William Worthington.

"The Adventure in the Valley" is the title of the second episode of "Haunted Valley." Ruth Rolands, in test exciting, pathological and the current chapter will be shown Sunday at the New Bijou theatre. Heroin Ruth and her daring protector, Craig, attempt to solve some of the mysteries of the Valley and almost come to grief themselves. A hair-raising climax shows them both plunging through the earth into a subterranean whirlpool far below.

Charles "Buck" Jones, the William Fox actor, who combines such exceptional qualities as acrobatic skill and histrionic personality, will be seen at the Elite theatre in his latest William Fox vehicle "Skid Proof." Sunday, one day only. He is supported by Lura Anson.

Judging by the reports that come from cities where this picture has been shown, "Skid Proof" provides Mr. Jones with the most flexible and varied role of his career. Laid in New York, at the time of the Transcontinental Auto Race, the scenes dash boldly from thrill to thrill in a wonderful series of kaleidoscope views.

"DULCY" WAS FILMED IN YOSEMITE VALLEY

Part of "Dulcy," which comes to the Elite Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday is Constance Talmadge's latest comedy of married life, was filmed in the Yosemite.

The early sequences of "Dulcy" were made in the Mohave desert near Needles, Calif., and Barstow, where Mohave and Walapai Indians were used.

COLLECT $1,800 IN INHERITANCE TAXES

More than $1,800 in inheritance taxes was collected this week by Miss Marie Ziegenfagen, county treasurer. Taxes on three estates were paid on Friday. They were on the estates of Nick Rathel, $197.28; Ferdinand Schabert, $328.80, and Herman Hecker, $985.32. A tax of $182.22 on the August Duhm estate was paid on Monday.

52 KILLED ON STATE ROADS IN 2 MONTHS

The highway toll for Wisconsin during July and August was fifty-two killed and 157 seriously injured, according to a report by the state highway commission on Thursday.

The July accidents included 204 on straight roads, 54 on curves and corners, 27 on cross roads, 12 at railroad crossings and 7 in other places.

The August accidents numbered 193 on straight roads, 5 at curves, 19 at cross roads, 13 at railroad crossings, 13 at hills and 9 at other places.

Causes of the accidents follow:

July	August
Reckless driving .....	140
Improper lights .....	13
Broken car mechanism .....	25
Intoxicated drivers .....	21
Narrow bridges and culverts .....	15
Driver falling asleep .....	3
Weather conditions .....	6
Parking or driving on wrong side .....	10
Passing other cars .....	35
Loose gravel or sand .....	7
Miscellaneous causes .....	23

The reports do not include all of the traffic mishaps that occurred in the state, but are a summary of the most serious.

For several months the state highway department has been at work on a compilation of the number of foreign cars that came to the state of Wisconsin during the season now closing.

W. W. Clark, assistant state county agent leader for this district, was in Appleton Thursday to confer with Robert Amundsen, county agent of Outagamie co.

NAME COMMITTEES FOR JOBBERS SHOW HERE IN NOVEMBER

Prize To Be Given Every Three Minutes At Manufacturer's Exposition

The last of the 40 booths of the coming manufacturers and jobbers salemen show, sponsored by the local council of the United States Travelers, has just been sold. The show will be the biggest one of its kind ever attempted in Fox river valley and the products exhibited will be mainly those of this section of the state.

The receipts of the show which will be given at the armory Nov. 22, 23 and 24 are to be used in defraying the expenses of the state convention of the United Commercial Travelers to be held in Appleton next summer. The committees have all been appointed and are at work. C. G. Rumpf is general chairman and the chairmen of the committees are:

Booth reservations, John Steinberg; publicity and decoration, Fred E. Schlitz; program, H. H. Cole; reception, Robert C. Brown; booth construction and floor arrangement, Charles Hopfensperger; prizes, H. J. Ingold.

There will be an afternoon and evening program each day which will be ready to announce within the next few days. So many prizes have been received by the committees that one will be given away every three minutes. A grand prize will be a feature. The committees are planning to hold a meeting next week for the purpose of reporting progress.

Oscar Seiberlich is attending the Beaver Dam fair, where he has charge of a display of Fox tractors and silo fillers.

NATIONAL DRY GOODS MEN WILL MEET IN MILWAUKEE

Several local merchants will be included among the hundreds of dry goods dealers from all parts of the country who will attend the National meeting of the National Dry Goods Dealers' association in Milwaukee on Oct. 18 and 19.

Former Gov. E. L. Phillip will deliver the address of welcome at the opening session. Some of the most prominent merchants in the United States are on the speakers' program.

B. J. Curtis of Shiocton, was in Appleton Tuesday. He said the recent tragedy in his part of the county is discussed to the exclusion of almost everything else.

ADVENTISTS ELECT WOODMAN AS DELEGATE

Seventh Day Adventists of Madison, Fond du Lac, Appleton, Racine, New London, Eau Claire, Green Bay and other cities in Wisconsin have elected Rev. I. J. Woodman, president of the South Wisconsin conference, a delegate to the ten-day convention of the World's General conference of the denomination which will be held in Milwaukee Civic Auditorium Oct. 8 to 18, and he will also attend a president's convention, which will begin in the same building Oct. 5.

President Woodman has also been named as a member of the entertainment committee of the Lake Union conference, which is to find suitable accommodations for the delegates who will attend both conventions. The other members of this committee, all of whom are well known in Wisconsin are: Rev. William Guthrie, president of the Lake Union conference; J. L.

McConaughy, young people's secretary.

Robert Schmidt has gone to Chicago on a several days' business trip. A. A. Fraser is spending the week at his cottage at Pickeral lake.

More Motor Luxury for Every Penny Than You Ever Bought Before

When you examine the improved Chalmers Six and take your first ride, reject all previous standards suggested by the new low price—$1185.

First let the car—its appealing beauty, its splendid equipment, its rich appointments and its brilliant performance—tell its own story.

Of one thing you may be sure. It will be a story in values you have never heard before—a story that would be hard to believe, were the evidence not before you in concrete terms. Chalmers engineers, with greater experience and greater resources than are commonly available, have made the supreme effort.

It is entirely up to you to render the verdict. The nature of that verdict can never be in doubt, for we are confident you can buy in the improved Chalmers Six far more luxurious motoring for every penny expended than the industry has ever before offered.

Seven-Passenger Sedan $2095
Even at this new low price you will find nothing lacking, nothing more to be desired in this custom-type seven-passenger enclosed car. Equipment includes floor exhaust heater, bumpers front and rear, nickel-plated radiator, cowl and head lamps; dome and rear quarter lights; satin nickel hardware, motorometer, trunk and rack, rear view mirror, windshield wiper and visor, soft roof construction, extra wheel.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL CAR IN AMERICA PAIGE

Luxury's Limit in Comfort, Performance
5-Foot Rear Springs—Unusual Power for Weight

THE thrill of eager performance—the luxury of rarely equalled riding ease—the satisfaction of smart appearance—all are yours in 5 or 7-passenger Paige Sedans.

Think of the riding ease of the Paige Sedan, with its rear springs more than 5 feet long, snubbers front and rear, and 131-inch wheelbase. However rough the road, no hostile bumps can ever pass these defenders of your comfort. And deep, softly cushioned seats invite relaxation. Rarely will you find a car that rides as smoothly as your Paige. Never a body squeak or rattle to annoy, for double strips of patent leather keep metal from touching metal or wood.

Both 5 and 7-passenger Paige Sedans are luxuriously finished—rich upholstery; silvered fittings; silk shades; elaborately fitted vanity case; walnut instrument board with all instruments under one oval glass. Nothing has been forgotten that adds to comfort and convenience. All these conveniences you must buy for a fine car, come with your Paige at no extra cost. See the list below. Compare the Paige with other fine cars—add the cost of this equipment to their prices—and you will realize the startling value of Paige. Truly Paige buyers benefit by the saving in Paige overhead, made possible by tremendous volume on the Paige-built Jewett. The car itself proves the saving for you.

Drive the Paige yourself to compare its performance with any car you've ever driven. You will be amazed at your perfect mastery over the great power of the smooth, silent Paige motor! Here is willing ability, under the daintiest guidance, to outperform most any other car. Pass others on the road if you like—leave them behind in traffic—flit easily up hills in high where others shift and stall.

Crawling through crowded streets at 2 miles an hour, throttle controlled, or flashing over the open roads as fast as you will ever want—Paige obeys your slightest command. Ball-bearing steering spindles—gentle, non-stalling clutch—quiet, easy gear shifting—give perfect performance under any guidance. Try it yourself. Drive the Paige in a demonstration. Call us, any time. (55-5)

REALLY EQUIPPED!

Paige prices include following equipment for which others charge extra on top of advertised prices—Two extra cord tires, tubes, rims and covers, mounted forward and locked on; spring bumpers front and rear; snubbers, stop-light, folding luggage carrier; motorometer; Walham clock, gasoline gauge and cigar lighter on the dash; automatic windshield wiper; sun visor; rear-view mirror; transmission lock.

YOU MAY NEED OUR DENTAL SERVICE

To sell our dental service is not a privilege but a duty. 80% of people need dental work and do not get it. They suffer in ignorance. The situation cannot look up unless we talk up. A mouth full of decayed teeth sending forth pollution at every breath is a serious menace to good health. Millions of germs multiply in such a mouth and get mixed with the food and carried into the stomach. Later these germs get into the blood circulation and produce disease in various parts of the body. You need our services to change this unhealthy state into a healthy state. Good teeth improve your appearance, your digestion, your health, and save you from toothache. Step right into our dental office and let us tell you what is best for your case and the cost. Do not delay. Get the benefit now.

has a
Brand New Engine

THESE exclusive engine features make the 1924 Oakland the finest of light-sixes and justify the continuance of Oakland's 15,000 mile guarantee and the mileage basis gauge of value.

1. L-head engine with Ricardo-type combustion chamber insuring great power at all speeds.
2. New type intake manifold and Stromberg carburetor of latest design. Impossible to place this carburetor out of adjustment.
3. Full automatic spark control, timing the spark to give maximum power at all speeds.
4. Larger and heavier crankshaft with larger bearing surfaces; new and more rigid crankcase of a type found only on higher priced cars.
5. Special patented bronze-backed bearings—insuring at least 40,000 miles without adjustment.
6. Larger valves of highest grade special alloy steel—insuring 15,000 miles without grinding.
7. Cylinder walls honed to the smoothness of glass. Pistons, rings, piston pins, and connecting rods like those used heretofore in Liberty motors and expensive cars.

See many other exclusive features at our special showing all week of the True Blue Oakland. Test the four-wheel brakes—admire the new Fisher bodies. Note the new lower prices. Make your own comparisons.

CARRYING PATERNALISM TOO FAR
Foreign affairs, relief for farmers, taxation and kindred problems have not engrossed the attention of the United States government to such an extent that it does not have time—and money—to extend its influence. There is going to be an official inquiry as to whether it is more economical for mothers to make or buy rompers for their children. So says Dr. Louise Stanley, chief of the bureau of home economics in the department of agriculture, another new bureau that people may have forgotten about. Dr. Stanley assumed her job three weeks ago, and brought the romper problem along with her.
Judging from past government inquiries, the decision as to what mothers are going to do about rompers will be arrived at only after a long period and the expenditure of much money. So it is suggested to mothers that they continue to do as they have done—to measure Junior or Jimmy or Alice, see how much goods it would take for rompers, ascertain what it would cost, and then look around and see whether a ready-made pair could be bought for less, the decision being guided in part by how busy mother is with other duties. Sometimes mothers find it best to make them and sometimes to buy them. While it is hazardous to predict what any government agency will do about anything at any time, it is possible that it will arrive at the same conclusion. If not it will be less efficient than the mothers.
The paternalistic side of government having grown so rapidly, there must be a development of the maternalistic side. Hence rompers, and, along with them, whether it is more profitable “to hire a laundress or buy a washing machine” and “to make bread or buy it.” In the past those questions have been regarded as individual matters, the most economical way for one being the most expensive for another. It seems fair to reason that this will continue to be the case unless Dr. Stanley decides that she has authorization to try to make women all in one mold. That might call for extension of the bureau into a department, with other bureaus devoted to biology, compulsory eugenics and psychology, to mention only a few possibilities. In the meantime, it will be well not to forget about rompers. The cost of the inquiry, to be sure, will be paid through taxation. But then, mothers will have something “official” to regulate their practice. Of course we shall have the usual questionnaire.

FEMININE RADICALISM
Headed by Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont of New York, there is a group of women in the Woman's party that looks forward to the day may it never come when the nations of the world will be managed by women. Judging them by their utterances, their resolutions and their deeds, Mrs. Belmont and her most aggressive colleagues seem to believe that the equality of women with men can be accomplished totally only by participation in government as public officials.
“Now is the time,” Mrs. Belmont said in an address to the western division of the Woman's party, in convention in Colorado Springs, Colo., “for women to take over affairs, and, as they very nearly hold a balance of power at this time, the day may not be so far distant as old party leaders imagine, when there will be set up a woman's government, by women, for women, children and humanity in general.” Mrs. Belmont added that she had given up hope of “awakening women of leisure and luxury” to realization of their duty.

The leadership of the Woman's party is obsessed with the feminine radicalism in which women of all classes and ambitions are even less interested than men are. Most women continue to believe, fortunately, that their happiness and humanity's advancement do not depend on woman's abandonment of the home, and of regular business and professional pursuits, and of the avocations of culture, for the turmoil of politics and the stern and exacting obligations of public office.
Most women, fortunately, disagree with the Woman's party radicals in the idea that women should unite in public affairs against the men; they believe firmly that women and men should consider great problems as questions which they should both decide in civic harmony. They are of the opinion that suffrage and women will benefit more in ratio to the non-participation of women in governmental affairs.
It is the truth that women exercise greater sway than men in working out the most momentous problems. Woman's influence would be impaired or annihilated if the strange objectives of the radicals were achieved. But the greatest assurance against the success of the absurd aims of the extremists is the sensible, practical idealism of the thoughtful majority, thoroughly feminine.

PROTECTING BANKING FROM POLITICS
Offhand, it cannot be said that all of the six amendments to the Federal Reserve act, proposed by the executive committee of the American Bankers' association, are fully worthy of unanimous approval. They apply, in the main, to matters of administrative organization, regarding which there may be difference, of opinion. The Federal Reserve institution would prosper satisfactorily without several of the proposed changes.
But the whole public should support those suggestions of the committee which aim at protecting the Federal Reserve system against politics. Politics should have no direct connection with business or banking, as business and banking should not, on their side, interfere with politics. Business and banking on the one hand and politics or the other cannot actively cooperate, except only to the extent that government carries out its duty in safeguarding public interest.
Agitators at the head of the farm bloc have done much to threaten the security of the Federal Reserve system. Even at this time Senator Brookhart of Iowa is chattering of an imagined conspiracy between the Federal Reserve directors and the Wall street financial group in 1920 to impoverish the farmer.
The public should be impressed by two conclusions. The first is that banking is banking, being a business of trust. The second is that banking, in order to flourish, must serve all lines of commerce, including agriculture, and all citizens, both rich and poor. Banking succeeds only in proportion to its integrity and public service.
Nothing could be more injurious to the public than political manipulation in banking. Nor could anything be more injurious than to assume that each commercial group should be represented in the Federal Reserve board. Business groups must accept the principle that banking is not for any group, but for the public.

THE TOURIST
The much traveled lady was talking about
The various parts of her tour:
“The Rockies,” she said, “I am rather in doubt;
We crossed through some mountains, I'm sure.
But what was the name of the mountainous ridge
We saw, I can't seem to recall.
Some people I met played such marvelous bridge
I scarce looked at mountains at all.
“Yosemite valley? Oh gorgeous, indeed,
So wide and so splendid and bare;
Not bare? Well, didn't play very much bridge,
For when I was touring up there
We got to discussing the right suits to big
And how one should play every hand;
I learned a whole lot about bridge, yes I did.
The scenery? Er—it was grand.”
Yosemite, Royal Gorge, Grand Canyon, too,
The desert, the mountains—we find
She glanced at them all, but there isn't a view
That she can recall to her mind.
She really knew just as much right at the start
As when from her trip she returned.
She has no impressions that she can impart—
But think of the bridge that she learned!

LETTER FROM A GROWN CHILD
Dear Doctor:
I am glad you explained to my wife about the liquor habit.
My grandfather and father both were heavy drinkers. I have been drinking since the age of 17. I am now 25. I started drinking very much as you have described out of a desire to show off and be a smart Aleck before other lads.
When I met my wife I thought I could stop drinking for her because I loved her. I did stop for six months, but found that I could not resist any longer.
I have a wonderful wife and baby, but I can see my wife's health is getting ruined from worry and she never has been any too strong.
I am a laborer and do not earn much wages and the price of liquor is high and it keeps us in debt.
I would like to try the treatment you advise and would like to get all the information needed from you. Please use the addressed stamped envelope to let me know the price for this information and all about the treatment.

Our grandfathers and fathers are in a large measure responsible for our weaknesses and deficiencies. But they are responsible in like measure for our good points. We have a fondness for indicting them for the former and throwing out our chests over the latter—for we all like to strut around as self made men.
This young fellow makes a noise like a man, but it remains to be seen whether he has really grown up. He writes just enough about that unfortunate wife and baby to give the impression that he does sincerely desire to be a man. But, as I told him in my answer to his letter, the first thing he has to do if he really expects to grow up and be a man is to acquit grandfather and father and shoulder the full responsibility for his own behavior. If grandpa and pa are still responsible in any way, he has no right to be married.
Given a real desire and determination on the part of the drinker to overcome his craving and rid himself of the curse of alcoholism, a method of medical treatment, which is well known to the medical profession as the Lambert method, may be successfully by any physician anywhere, provided the patient can spend two or three weeks in a hospital under the absolute control and care of trained nurses or attendants. There is nothing secret, expensive or dangerous in this method of treatment and there is no reason why it can't be used with success in any hospital or sanitarium or even in the patient's home if the essential nursing attendance can be had at home.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Sugar For Baby
What kind and how much sugar should I give my 8 months old baby who is on a diet of whole raw milk? I use no sugar in orange juice, farina, etc., and she therefore gets none except that present in fruit and milk.—Mrs. W. E. G.
Answer—No sugar need be added if the baby takes whole milk. Outline of infant feeding given in a special letter on the subject which I would be glad to send you if you will inclose a stamped envelope bearing your address.
Germs In Swimming Pool
Can diphtheria germs contaminate a swimming pool? The pool is 25x100 feet and is open to a community of 7,000 persons. The water in it is changed three times a week. There have been several cases of diphtheria charged to the pool.—Mrs. K. W.
Answer—I know of no record of such contamination or of diphtheria cases traced to such a source. But wouldn't it be more likely that the individual carriers of diphtheria bacilli infected swimmers in the pool in the ordinary way of respiratory infections—mouth spray? That would be as likely to happen at or in a swimming pool as in church or school or theater or a street car where one comes within the range of the mouth spray of the missed case or mild case of carrier, a range which does not exceed four feet when the carrier is talking, but jumps to 10 feet when he sneezes or coughs openly.

“What causes the leaves to turn red in autumn?” asked the young thing at the pink tea party last night.

The cause of all the trouble went serenely on, followed by the angry imprecations of his victims. A. E. M.

Pioneers Of City Married Half Century

Mr. and Mrs. Harm Rademacher Celebrate Jubilee With Family Reunion

The fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Harm Rademacher was celebrated Friday afternoon and evening at the home of their son August, 908 Harrison-st. Their two sons, Peter and August, their five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren were all present. A 5 o'clock dinner was served to 25 guests.

Mr. Rademacher who is 81 years old and Mrs. Rademacher, 79, were both born near Hanover, Germany. Mr. Rademacher came to Appleton nearly sixty years ago and was joined by Mrs. Rademacher about ten days before their marriage. Since that time they have lived in Appleton where Mr. Rademacher was engaged in the grocery business for many years. He is the only living member of the first vestry of Zion Lutheran church.

The Rev. Theodore Marth who with Mrs. Marth were among the guests gave an address using as his text, "And even to your old age, I am He." The children's choir of Zion school under the direction of Miss Anna Huber furnished several musical numbers. The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Albright and daughters of Wausau, Mrs. T. Kaufman and son Elmer of Tripoli.

Ukeles Add Zest To First Of Dance Series

Ukeles added zest to the music for the first community dance of the season in Armory G on Friday evening when the Dark Town Strutters invaded the hall. Members of the ukeles club of Appleton Womens club dressed as the negro strutters danced about the hall playing with the orchestra for three numbers. The girls sang "Lindy Lee" as a special feature and Miss Marion Ingenthron danced a Topsy jig.

The hall was decorated in black and red. Music was furnished by the Melorimba society orchestra. The dance was the first of the yearly series given by the sports council of Appleton Womens club.

Green Bay Sees Emme Pageant

More than 40 members of the Sunday schools of the Methodist churches in Green Bay will take part in the pageant "Conservation vs. Deforestation" under the direction of Prof. E. E. Emme, newly appointed supervisor of religious education for the Methodist church. The pageant will be given at the First Methodist church on Sunday evening and at St. Paul church the following Sunday.

Prof. Emme directed the same pageant in Appleton several weeks ago. It is a part of his plan of introducing his religious education program into the various church schools.

WEDDINGS

The wedding of Miss Carolyn Wendt of Ashland, and Leroy Jury, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jury, 674 Mendota, took place in Menominee, Mich., on Wednesday, Sept. 26. Mrs. Jury who is a graduate of Lawrence college has been teaching school since her graduation. For the time being, Mr. and Mrs. Jury will make their home with his parents.

CARD PARTIES

Twenty tables were in play Friday evening at the card party given by the ladies of the Equitable Fraternal union in South Masonic hall. Mrs. Katherine Hollenbeck, Mrs. E. Hassman and Albert Carter won prizes at schafkopf. Mrs. D. Rammer and Mrs. Louis Holzer at cinch.

CLUB MEETINGS

Judging from the interest which Appleton high school students have shown in the radio club, the officers are certain that there will be a large attendance at the first meeting of the club on Monday evening. Plans for the year will be outlined and a general get acquainted program will take place.

A special meeting of Appleton Womens club has been called for Tuesday evening at the Playhouse. Delegates to the Wisconsin Federation of Womens Clubs convention at Fond du Lac will be lectured at that time.

Mrs. B. C. Wolter will be hostess to the Monday club at her home, 1519 Spencer-st. at 2:30 Monday afternoon. Miss Adda Hobart will have charge of the program with "Spreading the News" as the topic.

First 25 couples admitted Free, Maple View Pavilion, Sunday evening.

Call Society Editor To Get Line On Dates

Conflicting dates are the bugbear of all who plan programs which are dependent on general patronage for their success. When you are planning for a concert, a dance or an entertainment, call the Society Editor of the Post-Crescent if you want to know what is going on at that time.

The calendar in this office is as complete as the reporters can make it with your assistance. The Society Editor will be glad to tell you what has already been scheduled for any date, providing that you call her back as soon as you have set a date for your program. Getting the date for your entertainment on the calendar is a safeguard to you because then others will not be so likely to choose that date for their events.

Be sure that all your lodge events, church and school parties and club doings are listed on our calendar and you will have fewer conflicting engagements.

Honor Couple With Party On Silver Jubilee

Ten couples, intimate friends of Mr. and Mrs. Wenzel Hassmann completely surprised them Friday evening at their home, 5 Sherman-pl in honor of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. In order to prepare the dinner themselves a friend of Mrs. Hassmann managed to inveigle her away from her home in the afternoon while the other ladies of the party established themselves in the house and cooked the dinner. When Mrs. Hassmann reached home in the evening she found her house filled with guests and a dinner ready to serve at 6 o'clock. Although the anniversary day was Sept. 26, the party was given Friday evening. Cards furnished entertainment.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

The choir of 25 persons of Zion Lutheran church will have a rehearsal at 7:30 Monday evening in the assembly room of Zion school. Miss Anna Huber is director of the choir.

About 50 young people attended the educational meeting in the Mt. Olive church parlors Friday evening. The discussion on "division of the church" was led by Herbert Schultz and the Rev. R. Ziesemer. A social program followed the meeting. Songs were sung and games were played. Prizes at dice were won by Martha Lueckel and Lauretta Braemer. Mention was made of the good showing of the baseball team which is scheduled to play the Appleton postoffice boys next Sunday afternoon in Jones park. The game will start at 2 o'clock, and a large attendance is expected.

Appleton Plan Explained To Fondy Women

"Recreation for Girls" was the subject on which Mrs. D. O. Kinsman addressed the members of the Fond du Lac Womens club on Monday. Mrs. Kinsman told of the great need for making the citizens of the country fit and then told of what Appleton has been doing through Appleton Womens club.

She began at the beginning of the history of the recreation department, showing how the women tried to give the girls an opportunity to have their own good time in their own way, but with the proper people with whom to play. She told of the purchasing of the clubhouse and the Playhouse and what it is beginning to mean to the girls.

Playgrounds Is Topic Of First Civics Meeting

The first meeting of the civics department of Appleton Womens club will take place at the clubhouse at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. The topic for discussion will be "The Supervision of Playgrounds" on which Mrs. Mildred H. Gardner and Miss Marie Heineman will present papers. Two or three meetings of the department will be devoted to the discussion of playgrounds and recreational supervision.

NO OPERATION FOR HER

She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Escaped the Operation Doctor Advised

Louisville, Ky.—"I wish to thank you for what your medicine has done for me. I was in bed for eight or nine days every month and had a great deal of pain. The doctor said my only relief was an operation. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine and tried the Vegetable Compound and the Sanative Wash, and they surely did wonders for me. I feel fine all the time now, also am picking up in weight. I will tell any one that your medicines are wonderful, and you may publish my letter if you wish."—Mrs. Ed. BOENLEN, 1139 Ash St., Louisville, Ky.

Backache, nervousness, painful times, irregularity, tired and run-down feelings are symptoms of female troubles. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken whenever there is reason to fear such troubles. It contains nothing that can injure, and tends to tone up and strengthen the organs concerned, so that they may work in a healthy, normal manner. Let it help you as it has thousands of others. It is now selling almost all over the world.

PARTIES

Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity entertained at a dinner Friday evening at the Athearn hotel at Oshkosh for their rushers. About 40 persons were present.

Eighteen friends and relatives of Nicholas Dorn, 384 Gilmore-st., surprised him at his home Friday evening in honor of his sixty-fifth birthday anniversary. Schalkopf was played and prizes were won by Henry Jarchow and Leo Leselsyong.

Thirty young people attended the acquaintance social given by the Christian Endeavor society of the First Congregational church in the church parlors Friday evening. A number of students and teachers were guests of the society. The evening was spent with games and stunts arranged by the social committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Rechner entertained 20 guests at their home, 509 Elm-st. on Thursday evening in honor of their wedding anniversary. The party included relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Rechner and a few friends.

Miss Lenora Schardt was surprised at a birthday party Thursday evening in the assembly room at Zion Lutheran school by the pupils of the third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades. Miss Schardt is a teacher in Zion school. The other teachers and the Rev. and Mrs. Theodore Marth were guests.

A number of friends surprised Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kaphingst Friday evening at their home, 1081 Fifth-st., in honor of their birthday anniversaries which occur on the same day. Prizes at cards were won by Mrs. Gerald Courtney and Mrs. E. Femal.

About 50 couples attended the dancing party given Friday evening in Eagle hall by the Eagles. Music was furnished by the Olympia orchestra of Neenah.

Send Clothing To Poor In Europe

More than 400 pounds of clothing and bedding have been sent by Zion school to the National Lutheran Council in New York city for relief work in Europe. The garments have been collected by the students for the last two weeks and many interested parents and friends have taken articles to the school. A sum of money also has been collected for the relief work.

J. J. Williams who has been visiting relatives in Appleton has returned to his home, Reanoke Rapids, N. C.

Miss Ruby Ellis Tells How Cuticura Healed Pimples

"I was troubled with pimples on my face and arms. They were real hard, large and red, and festered and scaled over. The scales were large and hard, and itched and burned continually, causing me to scratch until the eruptions bled. My face was so badly disfigured that I looked terrible, and my clothing irritated the breaking out and made it worse."

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. I purchased more, and after using four cakes of Cuticura Soap and four boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed."

(Signed) Miss Ruby Ellis, R. R. 4, Box 34, Girard, Kansas.

FRAUD WARNING!

House-to-house solicitors are claiming to sell Phoenix hosiery in various sections of the United States. Sometimes they show alleged credentials in which the word "Phoenix" is prominently displayed. Their plan is to secure a dollar deposit, promising that the hosiery will be sent by mail, and the balance collected by the postman. And that is the last their victims ever hear of them. They pocket the dollar and disappear. In a few instances, however, they have delivered some makeshift hosiery, worth about half the price.

These canvassers are outright frauds, for Phoenix hosiery is sold only through retail stores. As Phoenix is a leader in sales everywhere, and is probably the best known line of hosiery in the world, these peddlers are trading upon that reputation to defraud the buying public.

REWARD

United States Post Office inspectors and the Pinkerton National Detective Agency are now searching for these defrauders, and are working on several such cases.

We will pay liberally for information that will lead to the arrest of any of these unauthorized solicitors. If you are approached by any person offering Phoenix hosiery and seeking a deposit of money, please notify a Phoenix dealer, or your city's "Better Business Bureau," or if there is a Pinkerton agency in your city, notify them. Also telegraph us collect.

We issue this warning as a protection to the public, as well as ourselves, that no one may innocently purchase imitations for genuine Phoenix hosiery.

Unscrupulous and fraudulent house-to-house hosiery canvassers are daily mulcting the American public out of thousands of dollars. Beware of them.

LYCEUM COURSE AT SEYMOUR WILL BEGIN WEDNESDAY

Five Excellent Numbers Are Chosen For High School
Entertainments

Special to Post-Crescent

Seymour—Seymour high school has selected its entertainment course for the year. The first number will be given Oct. 3 at the city auditorium. Among the numbers will be the Arcadian vocal and instrumental entertainers; M. H. Jackson, whose travel talks are popular and instructive; "Smiling Bob" Briggs, imitator and impersonator; Virginia Girls, a singing orchestra, presenting southern melodies, accompanied by stringed instruments; Frederic Perry and company, an old New England choir of Boston. This company of artists is headed by Frederic Perry, baritone.

CLASSES ELECT

Seymour high school classes have elected the following officers:
Seniors—President, Earl Dunbar; secretary, Vera Archibute; treasurer, Arnold Helling.
Juniors—President, Maynard Sherman; vice president, Raymond Groen; secretary, Eileen Hansen; treasurer, Walter Lester.
Freshmen have not elected officers yet.

The American history class has organized a current news club, meetings to be held every Wednesday morning. Officers are: Hilda Koopp, manager; Arnold Helling, assistant manager. Lyceum will be held every Monday evening at the high school.

FLA SUPPER

The Ladies auxiliary of the Congregational church will have its annual chicken pie supper Oct. 11. The Rev. G. W. Lester preached the funeral sermon for Mrs. Henry Young at Appleton and Black Creek Thursday.

GRIDIRON IS IN FINE CONDITION FOR FIRST GAME

Sheboygan Tackles Kaukauna
American Legion Football-
ers On Sunday

Kaukauna—Few gridirons in the state will be in better shape than the one on the local ball grounds where the pigskin season opens Sunday afternoon with a battle between Sheboygan and Kaukauna state amateur football champions. Reports from the chair city indicate that the fans there have a good opinion of their squad and will send a delegation to Kaukauna.

Blanchers have been lined up along both sides of the grid. The lines have all been plainly marked, the goal posts are up and wire fences will keep enthusiastic fans out of the danger zone. The field has been marked off closer to the main grandstand this year.

There is no tentative lineup. Every one of the 25 or 30 candidates will be on the field and it is very probable that most of them will be given a chance in the fray. Interest is running high. A report has been sent down from Appleton that a large delegation will be here. The management has announced the appointment of a few extra ticket men and in general plans are being made to care for not less than 1,500 people. The "Knot Hole" club will be in the stands in a body.

YELLOWSTONE PARK TALK AT AID SOCIETY MEETING

Kaukauna—The Ladies Aid society of First Congregational church will present Charles A. Payne of Milwaukee at a public program at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening in the church. Mr. Payne will give a lecture on Yellowstone National park and will illustrate his talk with colored slides. Mr. Payne is a lecturer for the University Extension division of the University of Wisconsin and has been on the chautauqua platform.

Dance, Maple View, Sunday.

ENROLMENT FOR EVENING CLASSES STARTS ON MONDAY

Classes Will Be Formed In Any Subject If There Is Enough Interest

Kaukauna—Enrollment for evening classes of Kaukauna Vocational school will begin next Monday, Oct. 1. First classes will convene Monday evening. Plans are being made to offer work along all industrial and commercial lines for which there is a demand. A competent instructor will be secured to teach any subject provided enough people enroll for the class. Attendance at evening school is voluntary and is open to anyone over 16 years of age who does not attend some other school. The purpose of the classes is to give people beyond school age an opportunity to improve their education along lines of most benefit to them.

The term will run for 24 weeks. Classes will be held once a week. The usual deposit of $1 will be returned at the end of the term to those who attend at least 75 per cent of the classes. All classes will be open for enrollment for some time but A. T. Hudson, vocational school director, has advised students to start with the beginning of the term if possible.

Following are suggested subjects which will be open for enrollment next Monday: review of English grammar, shop or trade mathematics, bookkeeping, shorthand, typewriting, machine drawing, elements of architectural drawing, cabinet making, machine shop practice, sewing, millinery, cooking. Other subjects will be taught on request.

DRIVERS WARNED TO HEED SIGNALS AT THRU STREETS

Chief Prim Satisfied That Arterial System Results In Better Regulation

Now that the arterial highways of Appleton have been designated, the ordinance passed and the signs erected, all that now remains is to follow the regulations, according to Chief George T. Prim of the Appleton police force.

Any one who reads the newspaper knows where the arterial highways are and what they mean, namely, that such streets so designated are through traffic streets to cross which every vehicle must first come to a dead stop.

For the sake of those who may still be in ignorance of the location of arterial highways, the chief described them as follows:
College-ave, from Outagamie-st to Rankin-st.
Onida-st, from Lawrence-st to Second-ave.
North-st, from Onida-st to Rankin-st.
Rankin-st, from College-ave to Pacific-st.
Pearl-st, from Water-st to Lawrence-st.
Lawrence-st, from Pearl-st to Onida-st.

Chief Prim is very much satisfied with the introduction of the arterial highway system and believes that after it has been in operation a little longer people who opposed it will see the wisdom of the system as means of preventing accidents and regulating traffic. One thing, however, that he cautioned against is speeding. The arguments used by opponents that arterial highways would be an excuse for speeding is now not to be put into practice by the opponents nor by any one else. Neither do arterial highways give one permission to pass street cars when they are discharging passengers.

SIGNS ON PAVEMENT
Although there is little excuse for failure of local motorists to stop at arterial highway crossings, farmers, strangers and tourists may overlook them, the chief said. Nevertheless, even they should be used to them, as practically every city of consequence has them. Yet as a reminder to them the erection of signs at the city limits informing tourists that this city has arterial highways is advised. Chief Prim is strongly in favor of painting "Stop" signs in white on the pavements at arterial highway crossings.

"A sign painted on the pavement is more likely to be seen by the motorist than a sign attached to a post. It is the place where the driver most naturally looks," the chief said.

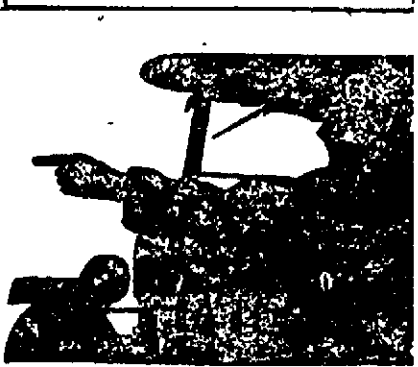

The signs could be painted with the aid of a stencil and could be freshened up frequently so as to remain permanently visible.
Objections have been made by motorists to the double use of arterial highway signs at the intersection of College-ave and Onida-st. Some maintain there should be no signs at all and that the traffic should be regulated only by a traffic officer or an automatic "Stop" and "Go" sign, as in use in Milwaukee. Others maintain Onida-st, being a state highway, should have the right of way over College-ave. Still others declare that College-ave should have the right of way over Onida-st, as the former is the wider and busier street.

NEED FOUR SIGNS
In the opinion of R. M. Connelly, city engineer, four signs should be in place to order stops at all four corners. If no traffic officer is at hand, it is presumed that the traffic is not very heavy. In that case, it should be easy enough to drive across if one has not stopped too far from the intersection. When in doubt as to which automobile should start first, one should observe the state right-of-way laws.

"The mistake some drivers make," said Mr. Connelly, "is that they stop too far from the corner. They are not enjoined to stop right at the very sign, but at the property line from which the driver is able to look in both directions. There is no rule as to how long one should wait before crossing. The main thing is to come to a dead stop. The stop should be made gradually and not suddenly. You may have good brakes, but the man in back of you may not. Unless you slow up gradually and signal your intention of stopping, the driver behind may crash into your automobile."

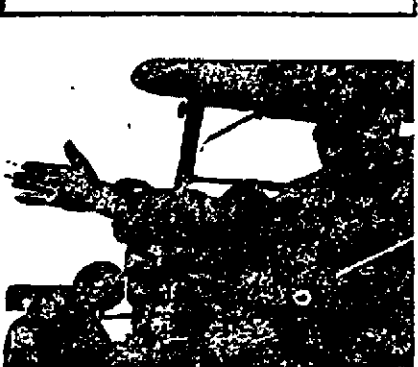

The Post-Crescent has on several occasions published a set of automobilists' signals which could well be put into use at Onida-st and College-ave. The driver's intention, whether to stop, back up, turn to the left, turn to the right, or make a complete turn, can be easily and intelligibly signaled by means of one of the signals described.

LEFT TURN

Post-Crescent Brings Expert Here To Conduct Free School In Cooking

Miss Mary Schumacher To Be In Charge Of Four Day Instruction At Vocational School Next Month

A free school in cooking, where the most model ideas in preparation of meals and in combinations of foods will be demonstrated, is to be conducted under auspices of the Appleton-Post-Crescent in the Vocational school on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Oct. 9, 10, 11 and 12, by Miss Mary Schumacher, a home economics expert connected with the home economics department of the Corn Products Refining Co., Chicago. Miss Schumacher conducted a similar school here a year ago and won the friendship of hundreds of women who attended the lessons.

Miss Schumacher is a graduate of home economics department of James Millikin university of Decatur, Ill. She has been a teacher of cooking and has had wide experience in her work.

The lectures and demonstrations will be absolutely free. Women will be privileged to ask all the questions they desire. Miss Schumacher has a definite program arranged which is designed to demonstrate many food combinations and food preparations. Every phase of cooking, from substantial dishes to the finest cakes and pies, will be touched upon. The lectures will start at 2 o'clock and continue until 4 o'clock.

The talks and demonstrations are designed so that they will readily be understood by any woman. They include talks on proper diet for every member of the family, requirements for growing children, and suggestions for lightening the work of the housewife. Many hints for parties and for preparing party dainties will be given. "Quicker ways of doing things" will be the motto of the school.

Classes will start promptly at the hour named and women will be asked to be punctual. Women also are asked to take notebook and pencil with them to note the suggestions and recipes which Miss Schumacher gives.

Last Longer- Less Adjustment

Buick Four-Wheel Brakes

Buick four-wheel brakes not only double the braking efficiency of the new 1924 Buicks by doubling the braking surface, but for the same reason lessen the wear on each brake mechanism in proportion. Buick four-wheel brakes last longer. They require less adjustment and the linings do not wear down as quickly.

Simple in construction and positive in action, Buick four-wheel brakes give added safety under all circumstances. They are of the Buick external contracting type and each brake has a three-quarter wrap or grip instead of the usual half-way grip.

Buick four-wheel brakes are operated with a slight pressure on the service brake pedal. They act quickly, smoothly and easily.

All 1924 Buicks (both fours and sixes) have these new four-wheel brakes. In addition, the 1924 Buicks embody further advancements in power, in construction and in beauty that make Buick more than ever "the Standard of Comparison".

He was more held by the undertone of excitement in her voice than by the question itself. "What is it?" he asked. "What do you mean?" "I mean—will it be a hard trip—one of danger and discomfort?" "I don't think so. I'm going to get a comfortable yacht—it will be a launch, of course, but a big, comfortable one—have a good cook and pleasant surroundings. It's all in my hands—bring crew, schooner, itinerary and everything. Of course, father told a wild story about cold and hardships and danger, but I don't believe there's a thing in it." "I don't either," he said, "I make no laugh, those wild and woolly stories about the North! This hardship trip talk about is all poppycock, and you know it—and the danger, too. To hear your father talk, and some of the others of the older generation, you'd think they had been through the infernal regions. They didn't have the same instincts that've been developed in the last generation, Ned."

"She paused, and he stared at her blankly. He knew perfectly well that some brilliant idea had occurred to her, and he was simply awaiting for her to tell it. She moved nearer and slipped her hand between his."

"Ned, I've a wonderful plan," she told him. "There's no reason why we should be separated for three months. You say the hiring of the launch, itinerary, and everything is in your hands. Why not take mother and me with you?"

"My dear—"

"Why not? Tell me that! The doctor has just recommended her a sea trip. Where could she get a better one? Of course you'd have to get a big, comfortable launch—"

"Take you—I should say I will take you—and your mother, too," he was exclaiming with the utmost enthusiasm and delight. "Lenore, it will be a regular party—a joy ride such as we never took before."

Ned planned to rise early, but sleep was heavy upon him when he tried to waken. It was after ten when he had finished breakfast and was ready to begin active preparations for the excursion. His first work, of course, was to see about hiring a launch.

Ten minutes' ride took him to the office of his friend, Rex Nard, vice president of a great marine-outfitting establishment, and five minutes' conversation with this gentleman told him all he wanted to know. Yes, as it happened, Nard knew of a corking craft that was at that moment in need of a charterer, possibly just the thing that Cornet wanted.

"This particular craft was built for a scientific expedition sent out by one of the great museums," Nard explained. "It isn't just a fisherman's scow. She has a nifty galley and a snug little dining saloon and two cozy little staterooms for extra toney passengers. Quite an up-stage little boat. Comfortable as any yacht you ever saw."

"How about cargo space?"

"I don't know exactly—but it was big enough for several tons of walrus and musk ox skeletons, so it ought to suit you."

"What do you think I could get her for?"

"I don't think—I know. I was talking to her owner yesterday noon. You can get her for ninety days for $3,000—seventy-five per for a shorter time. That includes the services of four men, licensed pilot, first and second engineer, and a nigger cook, and gas and oil for the motor."

Ned stood up, his black eyes sparkling with elation, and put on his hat. "Where do I find her?"

"Hunt up Ole Knutsen, at this address," Nard wrote an instant on a strip of paper. "The name of the craft is the Charon."

Ned drove to the designated address, found the owner of the craft, and executed a charter after ten minutes of conversation. Knutsen was a big, good-natured man with a goodly share of Norse blood that had paled his eyes and hair. Together they drew up the list of supplies.

"Of course, we might put in some of the stuff as northern ports," Knutsen told him in the unmistakable accent of the Norse. "You'd save money, though, by getting it here."

"All except one item—last but not least," Ned assured him. "I've got to stop at Vancouver."

"Canadian whiskey, er—"

"Canadian whiskey. Six cases of imperial quarts. We'll be gone a long time, and a sailor needs his grog."

There was really very little else for Ned to do. The silk gowns and wraps that were to be his principal article of trade would not be received for a few days at least; and seemingly he had arranged for everything. He started leisurely back toward his father's office.

But yes, there was one thing more. His father had said that his staff must include a fitter—a woman who could ply the needle and make minor alterations in the gowns.

He knew where he could procure some one to do the fitting. Had not Bess Gilbert, when he had left her at the door the previous evening, told him that she knew all manner of needlecraft? Her well-modeled, athletic, through slender form could endure such hardships as the work involved, and she had the temperament exactly needed—adventurous, uncomplaining, courageous. He turned at once into Madison where Bess lived.

She was at work at that hour, a gray, sweet-faced woman told him, but he was given directions where he might find her. Ten minutes later he was talking to the young lady herself.

"I haven't had many opportunities for ocean travel," she told him—and whether or not she was laughing at him Ned Cornet couldn't have sworn. Her tone was certainly suspiciously merry. "Mr. Cornet, I'll be glad enough to accompany your party, a y time you say."

It was a jesting, hilarious crowd that gathered one sunlit morning to watch the departure of the Charon. Rodney Coburn was there, and Rex Nard, various matrons who were members of Mrs. Hardenworth's bridge club, and an outer and inner ring of satellites that gyrated around such social suns as Ned and Lenore. Every one was very happy, and no one seemed to take the expedition seriously. The idea of Ned Cornet, of the curly brown hair, in the role of fur trader in the frozen wastes of the North appealed to his friends as being irresistibly comic.

Both Lenore and her mother seemed in a wonderful mood. The ninety-day journey on those far-stretching sunlit waters seemed to promise only happiness for them.

They had dressed according to their idea of the occasion. Lenore wore a beautifully tailored midday suit that was highly appropriate for summer seas, but was nothing like the garb that Eskimo women wear in the fall journeys in the Oomclaks. Mrs. Hardenworth had a smart tailored suit of small black and white check, a small hat and a beautiful gray veil. Both of them carried winter coats, and both were fitted out with binoculars, cameras, and suchlike oceanic paraphernalia. Knutsen, of course, supposed that their really heavy clothes, great lined woollens and slickers with leather-lined collars, such as are sometimes needed on Bering Sea, were in the trunks he had helped to stow below. In this regard the blond seaman, had made a slight mistake. In a desire for a wealth of silver fox to wear home, both trunks had been filled with discarded gowns to the exclusion of almost everything else.

Ned, in a smart yachting costume, had done rather better by himself. He had talked with Coburn in regard to the outfit, and his duffie bag contained most of the essentials for such a journey. And Bess' big, plain bag was packed full of the warmest clothes she possessed.

Bess did not stand among the happy circle of Ned's friends. Her mother and sister had come down to the dock to bid her goodbye, and they seemed to be having a very happy little time among themselves.

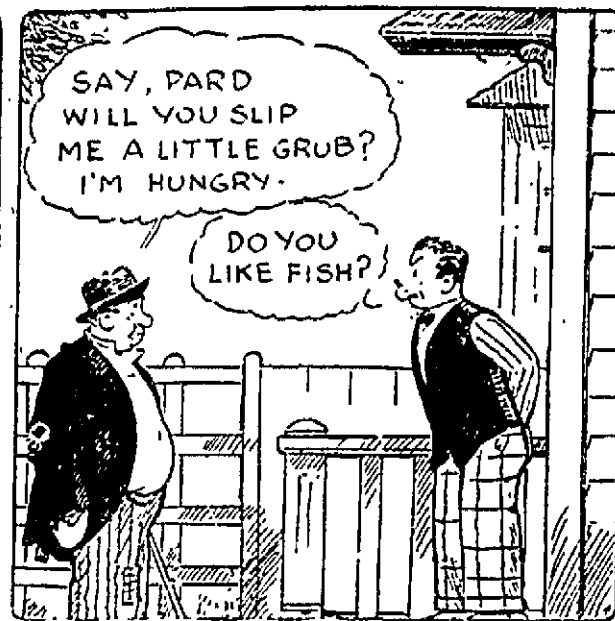

The captain was almost ready to start the launch. McNab, the chief engineer, was testing his engines. Forest, his assistant, stood on the deck; and the negro cook stood grinning at the window of the galley. But presently there was an abrupt cessation of the babble of voices in the group surrounding Ned.

A tall man was pushing through the crowd, politely asking right of way, his black eyes peering under silver brows. For some inexplicable reason the sound of frolic died before his penetrating gaze.

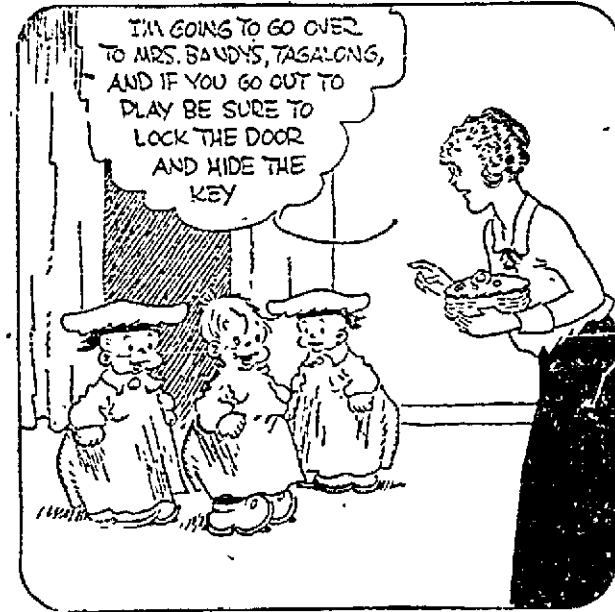

But the groups caught themselves at once. They must not show fear of this stalwart, aged man with his prophetic eyes. They spoke to him, wishing him good day, and he returned their bows with faultless courtesy. An instant later he stood before his son.

Public Must Pay Its Bills If Prosperity Of U.S. Is To Continue

Country Has Abundance Of Gold, Which Ought To Mean Good-Times, Says Babson—Credit System's Status Clogs Wheels

Wellesley Hills, Mass. — Roger W. Babson has been making a careful analysis of credit conditions based on reports from his various correspondents throughout the United States. His findings are of unusual interest to all business men and investors.

"Careful students of the financial situation are surprised at the action of the 'reserve ratio figure' of the Federal reserve banks and the similar figure for the New York banks," says Mr. Babson. "With the tremendous amount of gold in the country and with new gold constantly being mined, it seems strange that this figure should decrease. Furthermore, even although this is the crop moving season there seems no logical reason why our banks should put out additional currency. There is an abundance of money in the country for all legitimate needs. The only difficulty is that too much of it is being used in illegitimate ways, and too much is being hoarded in sections where it is not needed. The country does not need to issue more money, but the farmers and legitimate business instead of speculators in stocks, food stuffs, and wearing apparel should have the use of the billions already issued. Eliminate special and unreasonable storage and there will be enough money for every legitimate need in every line of industry."

GOES AROUND CIRCLE

"Yet this speculation in stocks and commodities does not account for the clogging which is taking place today in our credit system." Of the various reasons advanced I believe the fundamental difficulty is due to the fact that people are not paying their bills. Ever since the decline in business, which began a few months ago, there has been a tendency for manufacturers, jobbers, retailers, and consumers to slow up in their payment of bills. Of course, the whole thing is an end less chain. Just as soon as one link stops the entire chain must slow down. Yet there is absolutely no reason for such action. It is a psychological or moral condition rather than an economic condition. Business and the flow of money is like the flow of blood in one's veins. Anything which retards circulation harms everyone.

"An analysis of the balance sheet of our large industries shows that they are very largely made or unmade by their 'accounts receivable,' which is simply the accountant's name for money being owed them. For instance, the fertilizer business, as a business, is perfectly sound. Not only are fertilizers needed but they are needed more every year. It is a fundamental industry and yet most of the fertilizer companies are having very hard sledding at the present time, and their securities are selling very low. The reason primarily is that farmers are not paying their bills. The chain stores, on the other hand, are very flourishing today and their stocks are selling high. The main reason for this is that these chain stores are doing a cash business. They have no 'accounts receivable' and are able to discount their bills and carry large cash balances.

ADVISES INVESTORS

"In the case of almost every corporation the credit position is an important factor and any investor buying securities today should give it careful consideration. This is especially true today when industrial stocks are so much more popular than railroads and public utility stocks. Notwithstanding their troubles the railroads and public utilities do a cash business. This applies not only to transportation companies, but also to lighting and telephone companies.

"All of this means that one of the

SPURT IN DEMAND FOR PINE AND FIR

Fir Mills Report Tremendous Increase in Recent Bookings

The market for southern pine and Douglas fir has developed great activity during the last fortnight, says the American Lumberman, Chicago. Bookings by Southern Pine Association member mills showed a tremendous spurt the middle of this month to 6 per cent above normal, which is the highest point attained since last February. Bookings by fir mills reporting to the West Coast Lumbermen's Association at the same time showed a sudden rise to 41 per cent above normal and 17 per cent above the heavy production. The other softwoods showed no notable change, but continued strength in southern pine and Douglas fir should soon find reflection in the general softwood market.

The principal call in southern pine is for yard stock. Fall building has opened up on a large scale nearly everywhere, and retail yards are assured of big trade as long as the season remains open. The number of permits for new construction issued during August shows a big advance over both the preceding month and August, 1922, and all indications are that much more building is contemplated. Country trade is picking up splendidly here and there, and prospects are materially improved. It is notable that the proportion of straight cut business has been increasing lately. While there is no speculative buying, more retailers are coming into the market with a view of replenishing their broken stocks. In this connection, economic services are now advising buyers to purchase lumber now, protecting their needs for three or four months ahead. One of the leading economists states that the statistics position of lumber is strong, and that present prices justify stocking for seasonal account.

"While heavy orders for Douglas fir are flowing in from every direction, every effort is being made to increase the already high production in order to accumulate stock. However, the comparative scarcity of logs is a handicap, as logging has been curtailed on account of forest fire risks and will not be resumed before rain falls. Inquiry is almost unprecedentedly heavy with the mills hesitant to sell on account of the prospects for Japanese business. Prices have advanced an average of $5 within the last three weeks.

best things we can do to bring back prosperity is to promptly pay our bills. Moreover, this applies to wage workers as well as to employers; to retailers as well as to manufacturers; to people in small country towns as well as to people in the large cities. Before the manufacturer can pay his bills, the wholesaler must pay the manufacturer; before the jobber can pay the wholesaler, the retailer must pay the jobber; and before the retailer can pay the jobber, you and I must pay them. Prompt settlements will do much toward keeping the business from going lower. The Babsonchart now shows it at 10 per cent below normal."

BIG INCREASE IN IMPORTATIONS OF RAW MATERIALS

United States Manufacturers Importing $2,350,000,000 in 1923

The busy manufacturers of the United States are bringing in manufacturing material from abroad at the rate of over $2,000,000,000 a year. Already in the 7 months of 1923 for which detailed figures are available the imports of manufacturing material are 1.3 billion dollars, suggesting that the total for the year will approximate $2,350,000,000 and exceed that of last year by about 50 per cent in stated value.

Up to the end of July, says the Trade Record of The National City Bank of New York, the value of the manufacturing material imported was 55 per cent above that of the same period of last year, while all other imports showed an increase of but 24 per cent. Manufacturing material now forms nearly 58 per cent of the imports of the United States against 52 per cent in the same months of last year. Meantime the manufacturers are also pushing their sales abroad with apparent success, since manufacturers have formed 54 per cent of this year's exports against 48 per cent in the same period of last year.

What are the chief articles which our manufacturers find it necessary to bring into this world's greatest producer of manufacturing material? We are ourselves in the world's biggest producer of iron ore, copper, cotton, timber, hides, tobacco, petroleum, and sundry other less important manufacturing requirements, yet our imports of manufacturing material in the past decade averaged about 1 1/2 billion dollars a year and will be more than two billion dollars in the calendar year 1923.

The explanation of this large importation of manufacturing material into the world's greatest producer of factory equipment is found in our growing use of tropical and sub-tropical material and also certain raw material produced in countries having plentiful and cheap labor.

India rubber, for example, exclusively a product of the tropics, shows in the 7 months ending with July, 1923 an importation of $130,000,000 value against $58,000,000 in the same months of last year; gums tropical in 'most cases' $30,000,000 against $18,000,000. The fibers, chiefly tropical, are this year nearly double in value those imported in the same period of last year. Raw silk, we produce none, totaled in the 7 months ending with July, 1923, $221,000,000 against $170,000,000 in the same months of last year; wool, of which we do not produce enough for our own use, totaled $116,000,000 against $45,000,000; cotton differing from our own in certain qualities $40,000,000 against $26,000,000; tin, of which we produce none, $40,000,000 against $27,000,000, most of it coming from the other side of the globe; hides, of which we do not produce enough for our own requirements $87,000,000 against $49,000,000; copper

777,132 OWN STOCK IN U. S. RAILROADS

There were 777,132 railroad stockholders of the Class I railroads on December 31, 1922, the latest date for which complete figures are available, according to a special report of the Interstate Commerce Commission. This was an increase of 24,185 stockholders compared with the same date in 1921.

The total as of December 31, 1922, showed that there were $48,575 in the Eastern district, 74,699 in the Southern district and 257,358 in the Western district.

The report further shows that during the year $527,259,543 par value of new railroad securities were issued. Of this amount $65,400,731, or only 14 per cent, was in stock, and the remainder, $462,258,709 in bonds or other funded obligations.

The net increased investment in road and equipment during the year is shown as $202,106,786. Expenditures for new lines and extensions, $48,551,339, and expenditures for additions and betterments to $148,570,070 while property retired or written off amounted to $140,205,182 and various adjustments to $23,110,141.

UNCLE SAM IS SEEKING TYPISTS, STENOGRAPHERS

Government officials in Washington are still suffering with a shortage of typists and stenographers, according to word received by Herman J. French, local secretary of the civil service board. The government is anxious to secure more applicants for positions of that character. Examinations will be held at the local postoffice at any time.

Practically all who attain eligibility in the combined typists and stenographers' examinations are certified for appointment. There is also a constant demand for typists who are not stenographers.

The usual entrance salary is $1,240 or $1,440, plus the monthly bonus of $20. More are appointed at $1,440 than at $1,240. Higher salaried positions are usually filled through promotions, which comes because of our superior smelting and refining facilities, $54,000,000 against $31,000,000; and furs which come from all parts of the world $60,000,000 against $40,000,000 in the same months of last year. In practically all of these articles the quantities are also larger than in 1922. Here we are paying, for this $2,000,000,000 worth of manufacturing material which we are importing this year? Chiefly with manufactures and the classes of food not produced in the countries which send us this raw material. Our exports of manufactures for the calendar year 1923 will exceed $2,000,000,000; and food stuffs nearly $1,000,000,000.

What Is NOT Advertising

Advertising is a definite part of the business. What is charged to its account should be real advertising—not the expenses the individual feels he must incur in order to be a "good fellow." A writer in Printers' Ink lists free goods, announcements in picnic and bazaar programs, and donations to charitable, religious and fraternal organizations as "charges that do not belong in the advertising account, although too frequently put there."

3-YEAR TERM FOR YOUTH WHO STOLE W. C. WING'S CAR

Milwaukee Man Caught At New London After Stealing Car In Appleton

Theft of the big Buick sport model automobile of W. C. Wing, president of the Fox River Paper company, was frustrated Friday through the activities of the Appleton police department. The alleged thief, Albert Gillespie, 128 Thirteenth-st., Milwaukee, was brought back Friday night from New London, where he was seen by a New London policeman and an Appleton fireman.

Punishment was meted out quickly in municipal court Saturday morning when Gillespie was sentenced by Judge A. M. Spencer to three years in the state reformatory at Green Bay. The man pleaded guilty but had little to say. He told the judge that he had intended taking the car up north and then get a job. Sheriff Otto H. Zuehlke will take his prisoner to Green Bay probably on Saturday.

STOLEN FROM STREET
The Buick car was stolen at some time Friday morning while Miss Eleanor Wing, daughter of Mr. Wing, was shopping on College-ave. When she returned to the automobile parked on College-ave it was gone. A leaded purse containing about $11.50 in money and other articles was left in the car.

She notified the Appleton police, and Chief George T. Prim immediately communicated with the authorities in all the neighboring and some distant cities including Milwaukee. The surrounding vicinity also was combed. The net spread by the police was successful for the car with the thief and a companion were located and detained in New London Friday evening. It was first observed after 6 o'clock by Paul C. Peterson, who was driving near New London Friday evening. He pursued the car with the intention of notifying the New London police. As they approached the postoffice corner in New London the stolen car was also noticed by Herman Draeske, New London motorcycle officer, who ordered the driver to pull up at the curb.

GOOD DESCRIPTION
It was a conspicuous car and with the aid of the good description furnished by the Appleton police, the vehicle was easily recognized. The car bore the initials of Mr. Wing. Fireman Crouch learned the description, license number, etc., at the Appleton police station Friday. Upon receiving word from the New London authorities, Chief Prim in company with Detective Matthew McGinnis and Driver Albert Delgen drove to that city to get the car and the thief.

Gillespie, the driver, had previously been charged with wife abandonment in Milwaukee and was at present at liberty under bonds. He is an automobile mechanic by trade. In his pocket was found the beaded purse containing the missing articles except the $11.50.

After Gillespie had taken the car Friday morning, it was learned, he drove it to the home of his cousin, James Kaddell, who lives in Randall addition, just outside the city limits near Calmes Corners. Kaddell was with Gillespie when the car was detained in New London. No charge was preferred against him however, as it could not be proved that he participated in the theft. The car was parked in Kaddell's garage until 7:30 at night. The driver intended to make his getaway at dusk and proceed to Wausau.

JURY DENIES CLAIM FOR $2,500 DAMAGE

Mrs. O. N. Johnson Fails To Recover For Losses Charged. To Blasts

The jury of twelve men trying the case of Mrs. Ida H. Johnson versus Fred J. Lillie, Jr., and Herman R. Beske found for the defendant, according to verdict rendered at shortly after 11:30 Saturday morning. The jurors were closed for about an hour. Attorneys for plaintiff and defendant completed their arguments Friday afternoon. The case was then adjourned until 1 o'clock Saturday morning when Judge A. M. Spencer charged the jury. Mrs. Johnson had sued for $2,500 damages which she said had resulted in her home through explosions in the excavating for the Langestad-Meyer company building on Washington-st. at which the defendants as contractors were in charge. The plaster and foundation of the buildings had been damaged, she declared. The testimony of neighbors varied, some asserting they felt the vibrations caused by the explosion, others declaring that they sensed none.

HARVEST AND MISSION FEST AT REFORMED CHURCH

The annual harvest home and mission festival of First Reformed church will be celebrated Sunday with two special services. Dr. E. A. Hofer of the Mission House college will talk to the Sunday school at 10 o'clock and give a German harvest sermon during the morning service. Dr. Hofer will speak again at 2:30 in the afternoon on "The Work of the Mission House" and the Rev. William Oelrich, of Oshkosh will present some phase of home mission work.

In Hospital Here

15 MINUTE CAR SERVICE IN CITY TO START MONDAY

Cut 15 Minutes From Running Time To Neenah—Issue Weekly Tickets

will leave the Neenah terminus at the quarter-hour and the three-quarter hour instead of on the even and half hour as heretofore.

The first car will leave Appleton at 5:45 in the morning, arriving at Neenah at 6:15. The last car will leave Neenah at 11:45 p. m. instead at midnight as heretofore.

The faster running time will enable the traction company to give better service to interurban passengers with one less car. The cars will pass each other at Waverly beach switch hereafter. This increased speed is made possible by the new cars which are equipped with more powerful motors.

No change has been made in the running time of the Appleton-Kaukauna cars.

WEEKLY TICKETS
The weekly ticket plan, which also becomes effective on Monday, entitles the bearer of the ticket to unlimited riding between the points for which the ticket is purchased for a full week. The tickets must be purchased at the company's office. Authorization of the plan was received from the Wisconsin railroad commission this week. The tickets include transfer privileges.

Tickets will be sold as follows: Within the city of Appleton, $1; within the cities of Neenah and Kaukauna, $1; Appleton and Kaukauna, $1.10; Appleton and Kimberly, $1.15; Chute and Combined Locks, $1.20; Appleton and Sanatorium, $1.30; Appleton and Kaukauna, $1.75; Appleton and Neenah, $1.75.

"The increased service in the city of Appleton and the faster running time on the interurban line is in line with our company's policy to give the best possible service to our patrons," Mr. Ellis said in making his announcement. "We have placed new safety cars of the latest type equipped with powerful motors on our lines and these make it possible for us to convey our passengers with greater speed. The pay-as-you-enter feature also does away with much delay, all of which enables us to extend our service."

The old city line cars are to be sent to the scrap heap and the old interurban cars have been sent to Milwaukee. The traction company has an extra city car to be used in emergencies and it will continue its policy of placing an interurban car on the city lines during the rush hour at 3:45 p. m. to take care of the heavy traffic of workmen going home from the mills.

HARVEST FESTIVAL IN S. A. CITADEL

Salvation Army Opens Special Meetings To Raise Money For Japanese Relief

Special meetings and harvest festival sales will be held by the Salvation Army beginning Saturday evening and lasting until Tuesday morning. The harvest festival is an annual celebration instituted by William Booth, founder and first general of the Salvation Army. During the festival this year an effort will be made to raise large sums of money for Japanese earthquake victims and to reestablish the hospitals, rescue homes, and social institutions maintained by the Salvation Army in Japan and which were all destroyed. An effort also will be made to rebuild the national headquarters building of the organization in Japan as well as the homes of the officers and soldiers.

Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, "Sowing the Seed" will be the subject of the sermon at the meeting in Army hall College-ave. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon "The Harvest" will be discussed and a left-handed service for young people will be held at 6:30. "The Harvest is Past" will be the subject at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Monday and Tuesday evening articles which have been donated by merchants and farmers will be sold at auction for the benefit of the Japanese Relief fund. Adjutant and Mrs. Frank Sherwood, the new local officers have sent $25 to headquarters which leaves $75 to be raised in Appleton.

ST. JOHN CHURCH TO HOLD FESTIVAL SUNDAY
Annual mission festival services of St. John Lutheran church, town of Center, will be held Sunday, with sermon by the Rev. A. Werner, pastor, and by the Rev. J. Reusch of Waukegan and the Rev. R. E. Ziesemer of Appleton. The German service will be held at 8 o'clock in the morning and the English service at 2:30.

STRAY SHOT HITS AUTOIST DRIVING THROUGH SWAMP

Raymond Kitzinger Slightly Injured When Bullet Strikes His Head

Miss Arlet Wickesberg of Black Creek, a student at Appleton high school and Raymond Kitzinger, also of Black Creek, are congratulating themselves that fate played kindly with them when a stray bullet came their direction while they were passing Center swamp in an automobile on their way to Black Creek about 7 o'clock Friday evening. The bullet struck Kitzinger in the head but caused only a flesh wound from which he is recovering nicely.

Kitzinger had come to Appleton with his automobile to take Miss Wickesberg and Miss Silveria Kitzinger, local high school students, to their home. They were proceeding along Mackville-rd and as they passed the woods of Center swamp heard a loud report which they supposed was a tire blowup.

Kitzinger stopped his car and began to examine the tires. He felt blood trickling down from his forehead and remarked to his companions, "Why, I've been shot."

An examination revealed the wound inflicted by the bullet, but the injury did not cause much pain nor did it weaken Kitzinger. It was bandaged and the driver then proceeded to Black Creek, taking the wheel himself. A physician attended him and declared the blow was not a serious one. The bullet had struck him above one ear. It was found later on the seat of the car.

After the shooting was determined Miss Wickesberg recalled that the bullet had whizzed past her head, but did not know what it was at the time. It is believed that a hunter fired the shot. Nobody was seen on the highway.

BUCHANAN WILL HOLD MEETINGS URGING T. B. TEST

Amundsen Plans Three Gatherings To Discuss Value Of Area Inspection

Three meetings of farmers to discuss the free countywide testing of cattle by the state for tuberculosis have been arranged for the town of Buchanan by R. E. Amundsen, county agent.

The first will be held Monday night in the town hall near Combined Locks, the second in school district No. 2 Wednesday evening and the third in district No. 1 Thursday night.

Petitions for the area test have been circulated in all towns in Outagamie except Buchanan, Vandenberg, Kaukauna and Oneida. Each of these will be circulated during the next three weeks.

Mr. Amundsen will conduct each meeting with the assistance of committee members in each locality. He will explain the need of the countywide test and the method of obtaining it and the procedure used by the state. Local committees for the town of Buchanan are: District 7, Combined Locks, Malachi Ryan; district 1, William Rohan; district 2, Cornelius Verbeek; district 5, Joseph Kline; district 4, August Wundrow; joint district 1, P. H. Kauth.

Miss Gertrude Laurisch has returned to Milwaukee to resume her duties as nurse at Southview hospital. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Elsie Laurisch.
A. M. McCone of Deer Creek was in Appleton Saturday to visit his daughter, Miss Laurette McCone, who is at St. Elizabeth hospital.

FOURTH WARDERS FAVOR FIFTY ACRE TRACT FOR PARK

Property Now Owned By Golf Club Desired By South Side Residents

Taxpayers of the Fourth ward not only want a public park, but at their meeting in the Fourth district school building Friday evening went on record as favoring the purchase of the 50-acre tract of the Gardner estate. The vote stood 23 in favor of the purchase of the park and 13 against it.

John Tracy was elected chairman of the meeting and upon assuming his duties said he supposed the first thing to do was to decide whether the taxpayers wanted a public park. A rising vote of those who favored the purchase of a park was called for and 22 persons stood up. When a vote of those who opposed the proposition was called for five persons responded.

The two sites under consideration was West park recently purchased by F. M. Johnston and the 50 acre tract. Strong arguments were presented in favor of both sites and during the discussion that preceded the vote it looked as if the taxpayers would go on record as favoring both sites.

OFFERED TO CITY
The meeting was called to order by Alderman Robert McGinnis, who stated the purpose of holding it. He said the question of purchasing a park for the Fourth ward was revived at the last meeting of the common council by Fred Felix Wettengel offering the 50-acre tract to the city at the price the new golf club paid for it.

He said that neither himself or Alderman Jerry Callahan wanted to take any action on the matter until they first had an expression from their constituents as to whether they wanted a park and if so which they preferred. West park which was still available, or the 50-acre tract of the Gardner estate.

"Now, gentlemen," said the alderman, "if you want a park, we want you to have it and have the one you prefer. It is your money we are spending. You are the stockholders, as it were, and we want you to say where you want the park and how much you are willing to pay for it, so we can go back and tell the council what our people want."

TRACY WANTS PARK
In taking the chair, John Tracy announced he was strongly in favor of a park and as to its location he was of the opinion the taxpayers would express their preference before the meeting adjourned. He said the first business to come before the meeting was for the taxpayers to decide whether they wanted a park and a motion to that effect was in order.

Fred Felix Wettengel said he had always been in favor of the West park proposition, but it appeared to him as if the Fourth ward people themselves did not want a park as the aldermen were never united.

"I want to say," said Mr. Wettengel, "that Mr. Johnston has been very fair in the West park proposition. I am not interested whether the city buys the 50 acre tract. I have always tried to work for the interest of the city."

"Ever since the ward has been in existence that 50-acre tract has laid there. It has changed hands only three times since it was owned by the government."

"As soon as Mr. Johnston purchased West park I asked him if he would sell it at this time. He said he purchased it as an investment, but nevertheless if the city wanted it he would sell it. There were two things he wanted, however, and that was a sewer and water."

AFRAID OF TAXES
"Instead of being desirable for golf purposes we find the 50 acre tract without sewers or available water and the property is thereby useless to us. Furthermore, Riverside Country club is going to be taxed out of existence. I want to go on record as having offered this property to the Fourth ward and to the city before it is sold to anyone else. If you can get West park I am willing you should buy it."
